Teaching Experience

Singapore University of Technology and Design

INSTRUCTOR (02.145TS SURVEYS AND EXPERIMENTS IN THE SOCIAL SCIENCES)

Sep 2019 - Dec 2019

Jan 2020 - May 2020

Sep 2020 - Dec 2020

- » Undergraduate elective that introduces students to the basics of quantitative social science research, particularly in the design and execution of surveys and experiments
- » Outstanding teaching feedback score in Sep 2020 (4.9/5), Jan 2020 (4.8/5), and 2019 (4.8/5)
- » Selected student feedback:

"The constant feedback was very helpful in constructing our survey. Constantly asking us questions to challenge ourselves was very thought-provoking. Allowing us to challenge the answers made the class discussion more lively and more interactive as well as it made as more analytical."

"An excellent prof that can relate to students and thinks in the perspectives of students. He ensures that the learning outcomes are achieved through the project. He is always on call to help students with whatever questions they may have. Being one of the few profs that offer their telegram contact for easy communication that is very much needed for the project requirement."

INSTRUCTOR (02.230TS HEALTH COMMUNICATION AND BEHAVIOR CHANGE)

Jan 2019 - May 2019

Jan 2020 - May 2020

Jan 2021 - May 2021

- » Undergraduate elective that introduces students to theories in health communication and persuasion
- » Outstanding teaching feedback score in 2019 (4.9/5) and 2020 (4.9/5)
- » Selected student feedback:

"Instructor is very approachable and goes out of his way to expose students to diverse range of learning materials as seen in the additional resources he incorporated in his lecture and cohort in the form of short clips of campaigns/advertisements, both in the local and global context. I am proud to say that the instructor has nurtured my interests in this field of social science and he is truly inspirational to many of his students."

"Best prof ever!! Fun and interacts well with students. Teaches content in a way that is interesting and very easy to understand. Teaching inspires students to know more about this field and increases their passion for the subject. Evidence being that I often discuss its content in causal conversation with my friend, and even other friends who do not take this course."

CO-INSTRUCTOR (02.003 THEORIZING SOCIETY, THE SELF, AND CULTURE)

Sep 2020 - Dec 2020

- » Undergraduate core class that introduces students to major thinkers and ideas in the social sciences
- » Outstanding teaching feedback score in 2020 (4.9/5)
- » Selected student feedback:

"He is very engaging during lessons and allows students to speak freely in class on their thoughts which encourages students to become more involved and participative in class."

Nanyang Technological University

TUTOR (FUNDAMENTALS OF RESEARCH)

Jan 2017 - Jul 2017

- » Taught two tutorial sessions to communication undergraduate students
- » Outstanding teaching feedback scores of 99 and 98.77, significantly higher than the mean teaching index score of 85.51 among tutors in WKWSCl
- » Selected student feedback:

"I love Andrew! He is extremely helpful and is able to connect well with students. He has a firm grasp on concepts and help clarify questions really well. He facilitates tutorials well and engage us to think critically about certain questions on our own first, before helping/leading us to the eureka moment! I have been greatly blessed by Andrew. I don't think I'd grasp half of the course's content if not for him."

"Extremely clear and extremely patient with students. Went beyond class time to answer student queries. Most productive tutorial I've had in my first 4 semesters in NTU."

"He always aims to help us understand as much as possible the important concepts in the little time that we have and creates a wonderfully conducive environment for everybody to speak up in class and ask questions. This makes tutorials particularly productive and much more efficient, which helped me immensely. He is also very willing to take time outside of tutorial to explain concepts to us in consultations which I really appreciate."
